There is a constant preoccupation with food, accompanied by an unrelenting, overwhelming, overriding physiological drive to eat. Normal satiety (feeling of fullness after eating) does not exist. Petitioners have had to keep food locked up to protect Andrew, and cannot leave Andrew for more than a few hours at a time. He has had tantrums which have required police intervention. Andrew is also legally blind. There is no cure yet, but there is a group home in Clovis (the Medina Home) that provides 24-hour live-in therapeutic and behavioral help. Andrew also has a psychiatrist (information provided). Andrew has been living in the Medina Home since he turned 18 and graduated from high school. Petitioners wish to ensure that he continues to live there. Petitioners state: "If he leaves, he could literally eat himself to death." The Medina Home helped place Andrew in a job, but he cannot have unilateral access to his earnings. If he does, he will use them to purchase food. At school, he would slip money to his classmates to buy him treats. 		Will dated 11-6-08 devises entire estate to Petitioner.
		Petitioner states:
		At the time of her death, Decedent owned a 50% interest in the real property - a residence located at 723 North Sixth Street, Fresno, CA 93702.
		Before her death there was protracted litigation between Decedent and one of her children, Elvira Reyes, involving title to the property. On 8-19-05, the trial court declared the Decedent as the prevailing party in the quiet title litigation. However, Ms. Reyes then filed bankruptcy. Decedent again prevailed in an adversary proceeding filed in the bankruptcy case.
		As a result of the litigation, which concluded in 2007, title was vested 100% in Decedent.
		A few months later, another daughter, Demetria Mijangos, induced Decedent to execute a joint tenancy deed in favor of her and her husband, which deed was recorded 5-19-08 (copy attached).
		When this was discovered, Decedent executed a deed severing the joint tenancy which was recorded 12-22-08 (copy attached).
		Petitioner requests court determination that Decedent's real property passes to her and that no administration of the estate is necessary.

Petition to Determine Succession to Real Property (Prob. C. 13151)

3. Decedent executed a quitclaim deed to herself, Demetria Mijangos, and Jose Mejangos in joint tenancy, and later executed a deed severing the joint tenancy. It is this Examiner's understanding that in severing the joint tenancy, Decedent's remaining interest would be a 1/3 interest as a tenant-in-common with Demetria Mijangos, and Jose Mijangos.

The Inventory and Appraisal provided does not indicate a divided interest. Rather, it values the property at $40,000.00. Examiner notes that the estimated value of the probate estate provided by Demetria Mijangos was $13,000.00, which is approximately 1/3 of $40,000.00.

Need clarification:

- Does the I&A value of $40,000.00 represent a 100% interest in the property, or a 1/3 interest?
- Does this petition assume that Decedent owned a 100% interest in the property at her date of death?
- What percentage does Petitioner request court determination of as passing to her?

4. Need Order.
